TESTORI USA EXHIBITS AT FILTRATION 2013

Cincinnati, OH – October 2, 2013 – Join Testori, USA, at the annual Filtration 2013 Conference and Exhibition November 12 - 14 in Chicago, Ill.

President of Testori, USA, Clint Scoble, and Sergio Carella, Export Manager, from The Testori Group S. p. A., Italy, will be available to offer advice and answer questions about their products in booth #612. Bring challenging customer issues to learn about solutions available with a Testori specialty felts.

Testori USA is the only company in the U.S. to stock quality European felt in a centrally located warehouse for immediate shipment. Offering a wide range of needled felts for dust collection and liquid filtration, Testori's technically conceived and quality manufactured felts are distributed in North America and accompanied by a full spectrum of lab services and decades of technical expertise. Available in a range of finishes, coatings and surfaces, Testori's scrim supported products are specifically designed to deal with spark issues, caking, water and oil absorption, high temperatures and blinding.

Officially opened in June, 2011, the Testori warehouse started with eight fabrics and has since added 21 more specialty Testori fabrics to meet increased demand from filter bag converters to address their customer's operating issues. A division of The Testori Group, Novate Milanese, Italy, Testori USA was incorporated in August, 2011.
